

We invite applications for

6 Doctoral Scholarships

with a maximum duration of 3 years, beginning 1 October 2010

Our Programme

The Institute for Employment Research (IAB) and the School of Business and Economics of the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg have set up a programme to support doctoral proposals. It focuses on sociological and economic labour market research and is aimed at consolidating and extending theoretical, methodical and applied skills in this field. Access to excellent micro data in the fields of employment and social security is granted.

Addressees of our Programme

We address outstanding young researchers from the social sciences and economics disciplines. Applicants should be highly motivated with enthusiasm for issues of the labour market and occupational research. Preference will be given to dissertation proposals that deal with issues of macroeconomic development in the labour market, labour market policy, regional and international labour markets, establishments in the labour market, or life chances and social inequality.
