

Call for Papers

Unemployment and Well-being

International
Workshop

Background

The workshop presents recent research on unemployment and well-being. Theoretical and empirical work from different disciplines – in particular economics, psychology and sociology – is very welcome. The scientific committee encourages in particular submissions of papers on the following topics:

- the impacts of unemployment on cognitive, psychological and emotional well-being as well as on health
- resilience, coping resources and coping strategies
- subjective well-being, job search and labor market policies
- methodological progress in the collection of data on subjective well-being
- study design and causal identification of well-being effects

Keynote speaker

Andrew E. Clark (Paris School of Economics)
